ESTABLISH GOVERNMENT

Communication With St. Petersburg Has Been Cut Off—Rioting Has Broken
Out in Tremendous Volume.

Moscow, Oct. 28.—At a meeting today of delegates representing the different political parties in Russia, it was decided to unite in the establishment of a government, and to act independently of imperial authorities. Two hours later telegraphic communication with St. Petersburg was cut off. This is plainly revolution.

STREAMS OF BLOOD
BEGIN TO FLOWInternal Discords in the Czar's Empire
Are Now Fomented to a High Pitch of Excitement.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Advices from Kharkoff state that martial law has been declared there. The night has passed quietly, the police and military, having continued to obey the strict strike orders given them, not to fire unless rioting was attempted. Many of the stores and shops opened for business this morning. Persistent reports heard today are to the effect that Count Witte, an influence which is being exerted to bring about pacific solution of the present trouble, has triumphed at court and that he has almost convinced the Czar that a proclamation of constitutional regime is absolutely necessary.

Advices from provincial centers show that rioting has already begun. So far the disturbances have not become general. In the instances recorded the troops have attacked the people and demonstrations have been attended by bloodshed. The despatches are meagre and give but few details.

Additional troops are being hurried to this city as rapidly as they can be moved. In view of the tie-up on the railways all through the country, railroads are paralyzed and business generally is at a standstill. The food supply is almost exhausted.

The military commander at Kieff has ordered the troops to recapture Kharkoff, where a state of war now exists. Telegraphic communication with Moscow has been interrupted. Advices from Irkutsk announce that employees of the Trans-Baikal railway have joined the strike.

Destruction at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 28.—Martial law has been declared here. The strikers have blown up a bridge at Myszkoff, near here. Railway tracks have also been torn up.

GROVER CLEVELAND SPOKE.

At Unveiling of Monument to J. Sterling Morton.

Nebraska City, Neb., Oct. 28.—A monument to J. Sterling Morton, father to Paul and Joy Martin, was unveiled today at this place. The address was delivered by ex-President Grover Cleveland.

In the course of his address, the speaker said: "If our people ever return again to their trust in character as a steady force in our restless enterprise and immense material growth, it will be when they take to heart the full significance of such a commemoration as this. We memorialize a man who not only earned the lasting honor of his countrymen, but whose life, in all things worthy of high endeavor, was abundantly successful. As a pioneer who labored to improve the new country of his home, he lived to see it blossom as the rose; as a scholar he cultivated his own mental powers and acquired knowledge in order that he might be able to instruct and benefit others; as a statesman he left the impress of high aspiration upon our citizenship, and of usefulness and fidelity upon our public life; and as the father of three-planting he gained the grateful remembrance of the old and young of the present generation and that of generations yet unborn. All these things he wrought out through the power of a strong, wholesome, patriotic and beautiful character."

In Roosevelt's Birthplace.

New York, Oct. 28.—In the house in which President Roosevelt was born at 28 East 20th street, the 47th anniversary of the president's birth was celebrated last night at a banquet attended by a hundred members of the Roosevelt Home club, with invited guests. It is the purpose of the club to purchase the house and use it as a permanent headquarters. It was announced that an anonymous donor had offered to give $10,000 toward this object when the club shall have raised the remainder of the sum needed.

Mayor James E. Burke, of Burlington, has issued an order to the effect that the city hall must not in the future be used for dances. This action is taken because of certain disgraceful affairs that have occurred there in the past.

JEROME IS NAMED.

As Candidate for District Attorney on Republican Ticket.

New York, Oct. 28.—The republican county convention which was adjourned October 13, subject to the call of the chairman, was reconvened last night to nominate a candidate for district attorney vice Charles A. Flammer, resigned. Judge Otto A. Rosalsky's motion that the secretary be instructed to cast one ballot for Jerome prevailed and Jerome was unanimously nominated. Mr. Halpin then announced that as soon as the minutes of the convention were transcribed and the certificate of nomination was made out they would be filed before the board of elections, probably this morning. He declared that prominent lawyers had given assurance that Jerome's name could be put on the official ballot in the republican party column. "If, however," he said, "the board of elections deadlocks over the nomination which will mean a virtual refusal we will appeal for a writ of mandamus to special term, part two, of the supreme court. In the event that the judge there decides against us we will go to the appellate division. Our lawyers are confident that we will win there."

Herrick Makes a Plea.

New York, Oct. 28.—A special meeting of the Democratic club was held last night for the general endorsement of the democratic candidates. Former Supreme Court Justice D. Cady Herrick, who presided said:

"If you can convince the four and a half million persons in the great city that democracy is needful, then you will have gone toward piling up a record plurality for the straight ticket. This campaign is above and beyond the plane of politics. It is a campaign for decency, honesty, clean government. Lay aside faction fights; forget party differences; remember only that the question of questions is whether the citizens of this great city shall be protected."

TOOK HEROIC MEANS.

With Train Derailed on Bridge, Engineer Put on Full Steam.

Lexington, Oct. 28.—Twelve persons were injured last night on the Southern railway, when a train was hurled from a bridge, seven miles from Lexington, into a creek, 40 feet below.

With one exception all the passengers were slightly bruised. The tender, the mail and the baggage coaches and the smoking car were splintered and thrown into the creek. The bridge was destroyed.

The tender of the locomotive jumped the track about 100 yards from the bridge.

Realizing that if the locomotive left the rails on the bridge the whole train would be dragged after it, Engineer Phillips threw the throttle wide open, and barely succeeded in getting the locomotive across the bridge when the sides of the bridge were battered down by the plunging cars. The mail was saved, but all the baggage was destroyed or damaged by water.

DEAD WITH HER JEWELS.

Mrs. M. Todd of New York Found Last Night in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—A woman supposed to be Mrs. M. Todd of New York was found along the tracks of the Philadelphia & Reading railway at the Oxford street entrance to Fairmount Park late last night. Both legs were severed from the body below the knees and her head was crushed. A patrol wagon was hurriedly summoned and the woman was conveyed to the German hospital, where she died in a few minutes.

From papers, newspaper clippings and letters found on the body, the police believe that she is the wife of Louis L. Todd, proprietor of the Hotels Marlborough and Vendome of New York. When found the woman wore eight diamond rings, diamond ear rings and a diamond brooch. In her hand bag were found a cancelled Pullman car ticket from Jersey City to Philadelphia, also a check and a small sum of money.

CORBETT HAD ADVANTAGE.

Over Joe Tipman in Their Fight at Baltimore Last Night.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 28.—Claiming to have sprained a ligament of his left thumb, Joe Tipman of this city, quit after the eighth round of what was to have been a 15-round fight with Young Corbett of Denver, here last night.

Referee O'Hara gave the fight to Corbett. To all appearance it would have been his had the bout gone on.

Corbett was handicapped by pounds of fat that he would have been much better without, while Tipman seemed to be in the best of condition. The latter showed few marks at the end, while Corbett was cut and raw. Tipman showed himself adept in keeping away and in the fifth round Corbett seemed tired. In the next he recovered and scored heavily, Tipman holding to avoid punishment. In the seventh Corbett began to beat a tattoo on Tipman's ribs, landing on them at will, and the Baltimorean suffered. Except in the fifth round, which was fairly even, Corbett had all the best of the fight.

Kaufman Lasted 17 Rounds.

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—The glove contest last night at Woodward's pavilion between Al Kaufman and Jack O'Brien attracted much attention, as it was expected to determine the statue of Kaufman in pugilistic circles. Although Kaufman had little ring experience, he lasted 17 rounds when he was knocked out. Both men were in splendid condition, and the advance sale of seats was large.

St. Albans Pastor Resigns.

St. Albans, Oct. 28.—Rev. John Cameron has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church in this city, to take effect sometime in November. He has been pastor of the church here two years. His plans are unsettled.

ARMS AND LEGS 17 CHILDREN
OF WOMAN POISONEDImportant Discovery In The Three Are Dead At Burling-
Boston Suit Case Mystery. ton Orphan Asylum.

THREE RINGS FOR A CLUE IS A BAFFLING MYSTERY

Limbs Were in a Suit Case Which Was Picked Up Floating in the Charles
River—Torso of Body Found
Several Weeks Ago.

Boston, Oct. 28.—The police are again actively at work on the famous suit case mystery of last month, being stirred by the finding of a second suit case late yesterday.

The second dress suit case was found floating in the Charles river, near the new Charleston bridge, late yesterday. The case contained the arms, said to be those of a woman, and the police say there is no doubt that they are the missing members of the torso found at Winthrop.

With the finding of the limbs there is now a chance that the victim of the tragedy may be identified, as on one of the hands there were three rings.

Yesterday's discovery is closely linked in several particulars with the Winthrop find. The torso was wrapped in oil cloth and the limbs found yesterday were encased in a wrapping identical with that about the torso.

While investigating the Winthrop mystery the police located two pawn brokers, who had sold suit cases to a man answering the same description and one of the pawn brokers identified the Winthrop suit case on one he had sold the man. That case was fastened by a strap taken from a newer case.

The dress suit case found yesterday was identified by the pawn broker as one sold by him. Although when sold it had two straps attached to it, one of the straps had been removed, but the strap remaining was of the same size and shape, and similar in the pattern of the buckle to the strap fastened about the case found at Winthrop.

The limbs found yesterday had been severed from the body with the greatest care, and the manner in which every separation was done resembled the work of a skilled surgeon.

The ghastly discovery was made by Edward Frazer, a member of the crew of the lighter S. A. Pike. The lighter was tied up at a wharf midway between the North End gas house and the new Charlestown bridge. Frazer saw the case floating down stream and pulled it to the deck of the lighter with a boat hook. The legs had been separated at the knees, making six pieces in all, the thighs, the lower legs and the arms.

The limbs were badly decomposed, but the decomposition was internal, the skin being well preserved. On the right hand were found three rings, two of them on the ring finger and one on the little finger. It is by means of these rings that the police hope to establish the identity of the victim.

The ring on the little finger was an old-fashioned gold band. It had evidently been worn a long time, as it was thin on the edges. The band was not plain, but was chased, the design being a small pointed raised cross within a large cross that was depressed. The rings on the ring finger contained gems. One of them was an opal, which had originally been surrounded by a circular cluster of smaller stones, but all except the opal had disappeared.

This ring was very narrow and thin, and had evidently, like the band ring, been worn for a long time. The setting on the third ring held an oval gem, which is thought to be an imitation garnet. On the inner side of the band of the opal ring the initials "H. B." were stamped with a die, and these initials, the police believe, are the trade mark of the jeweler who manufactured it. The imitation garnet ring had three small dots stamped on the inner side of the band. There were no engraved initials on any one of the rings.

All of the rings were of solid gold, but were inexpensive affairs. This, according to the police, disposes of the theory that the victim was a woman of wealth.

One Ring Traced to Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 28.—One of the rings found on the finger of the limbs found was made by Heintz Brothers, manufacturing jewelers, of this city. The ring, according to a telegram to the Buffalo police, bears Heintz Brothers' monogram, "H. B."

Lewis J. Heintz, a member of the firm, said last night: "Our goods go in large consignments to a great many cities, so it would be impossible for us to identify an individual purchaser. We might be able to tell, however, from a close study of our books, to what retail dealer the consignment containing this particular ring was sent."

Will Reach Key West Tonight.

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 28.—The cruiser West Virginia with President Roosevelt on board was spoken yesterday by wireless telegraphy, the ship at the time being about 300 miles off. The message was received at the Pensacola navy yard and stated that the West Virginia would reach Key West tonight.

President's Birthday Celebrated.

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—Theodore Roosevelt's 47th birthday was celebrated here last night by the "original" Roosevelt club, with a banquet at which 400 covers were laid.

The Sick Ones Were Those Who Were Left at Home When the 250
Others Attended a Performance.

Burlington, Oct. 28.—It became known yesterday afternoon that 17 girls, whose ages range from two to six years, at the St. Joseph's orphan asylum in this city, were taken suddenly ill Thursday night and three of them died within three hours. The cause of the illness is not known, but at an autopsy held under the auspices of the state board of health it was determined that the death of the three girls was due to poisoning.

The girls who were taken ill all remained at the asylum Thursday evening, while the remainder of the 250 children cared for at the asylum were taken to an entertainment. It is supposed that in the absence of some of the nurses the children obtained something of a poisonous nature, which they all tasted. Physicians were hastily summoned when the illness was discovered, but they were unable to save three of the little ones. They expressed the opinion that the others would recover, although some of them are still in a serious condition.

The autopsies were as exhaustive as possible, but the nature of the poison could not be determined. The stomachs were taken to the state laboratory and definite knowledge will be gained within a few days.

The girls who were afflicted by the illness were all under ten years of age. The sisters at the orphanage, 21 in number, are very reticent about the affair and will not give the names of the girls who are dead. Dr. Courtney, the health officer, also refuses to make public the facts in the case. The only name known is that of Nellie Blair of Alburgh, aged seven. The remains of the other two girls were buried here yesterday.

The symptoms of the disease are a coated tongue and pains in the chest. One of the children had a rash on both sides of her chest. The physicians at first thought this was a symptom of scarlet fever, but later dismissed the idea.

What poison the children secured is not known yet but the examination is being continued at the state laboratory of hygiene and as soon as a result is reached a report will be made by Dr. B. H. Stone, the director, to Dr. J. W. Courtney, health officer.

All the children who were sick were among those who remained at the orphanage while the rest of the children were at The Strong Theatre attending the performance which was given by them Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon. The illness first appeared Tuesday night and came after case came in quick succession. It is believed that these girls secured some berry of a poisonous nature while the rest of the children were away and a search for locust berries and May apples was made but none were discovered. The theory that the poison was administered in the food was immediately cast aside as all the children in the institution are fed from the same kitchen and it would have been impossible for the illness to have been confined as it was if food had been responsible.

Word was immediately sent to Commissioner of Immigration Watchman, who notified the various railroad lines to hold all passengers from the Nord America.

A Trip to Europe and Return.

One of the leading features of the Masonic fair, Bolster block, Nov. 6 to 11 inclusive, will be a voting contest for a round trip ticket, second class, open to any person residing in Washington county, the officers of Granite Lodge alone excepted, as follows: From Boston, New York or Montreal to Liverpool, Queenstown, Southampton, London, Glasgow, Havre, Antwerp, Naples or Genoa, covering only expenses incurred in regular ocean ticket and by direct steamers from port to port.

The votes will cost five (5) cents each, and each vote count one (1). Each season ticket gives six votes free, and each single admission one. Other votes will be on sale during the fair. The standing of the candidates will be announced each evening of the fair.

Please understand that the management have no "axes to grind," being only responsible for the success of the fair and they guarantee that precautions will be taken to make the contest absolutely impartial and fair.

A grand chance to aid your friend and give him or her all any could desire for a delightful trip out and back, or a round trip second cabin passage to suit the successful candidate. The candidate elected chooses their own route.

DROPPED DEAD ON STREET.

Louis Marie of St. Johnsbury, Long-Time Scale Works Employee.

St. Johnsbury, Oct. 28.—Louis Marie dropped dead yesterday afternoon while on his way home after his day's work at the Fairbanks scale shops, where he had been employed for nearly forty years. He was born in France and leaves one unmarried daughter. This is the second instant death here in two days.

Mrs. William C. Bowditch having died in a carriage Thursday while being taken to the hospital.

Frank C. Bostock Attacked.

Paris, Oct. 28, 5 a. m.—Frank C. Bostock, the lion tamer, was attacked and badly lacerated by a lion during his performance last night at this place. Mr. Bostock is still unconscious.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

Evangelistic Services Conducted by Ralph Gillam.

A large and thoughtful audience listened to Rev. Ralph Gillam last evening as he preached to them a pointed sermon on "Who Is on the Lord's Side." He said that the man who is on the Lord's side must see himself as a sinner and must realize his need of a saviour. He must also believe in the Bible. An interesting story was told concerning Dr. Talmage. As a student at Andover Theological seminary he used to ask many foolish questions. Finally Dr. Parks said to him one day: "Brother Talmage, you must let God know something. The Bible has stood the test of time. It has been translated into 264 languages. There are 19,000 Bibles printed every week, 300 an hour and 5 every minute. Voltaire, Thomas Paine, and Col. Ingersoll tried to destroy it and prophesied against them but they are gone and the old book stands, loved by more souls than ever before.

The man that wants to be on the Lord's side must be willing to be led by the spirit of God. We are now living in the dispensation of the spirit. He believes in the Church. Some of us are weak, but you Free Masons and Odd Fellows do not wish to be condemned because you have a few weak specimens; neither should the Church. Christ had one Judas among the twelve and it should not be surprising to occasionally find one now.

The Lord's side is the best side. Gladstone thought being right with God the most important matter in the world. It is the side of victory. There is no good reason why you should not decide for Christ now.

At the close of the sermon a large and enthusiastic after-meeting was held in the adjoining room, during which many new voices were heard. There will be no meetings on Saturday but on Sunday Mr. Gillam will speak at 10.30 and 7 p. m.

ASKS FOR MORE TIME.

Case of Phelps vs. Jackson Keeps Dail-ing Along in Supreme Court.

Supreme court now has under consideration the application of Charles A. Phelps for more time to secure testimony in his case against State's Attorney S. Hollister Jackson, in which he claims that Jackson is an alien and not entitled to hold the office. The state's attorney opposed the motion on the ground that he should not be called upon to stand the extra expense unless the interests of the state demanded it. Phelps, the relator, claims that the grandfather of the state's attorney held title property in Canada in 1838 and that he must have been a subject there in order to hold it. Phelps' attorneys wish to get the opinion of an expert on Canadian law in this matter.

SMALL POX DISCOVERED.

Among Passengers on Steamer From Naples and Genoa.

New York, Oct. 28.—A well developed case of small pox was discovered on Ellis island yesterday among 1,300 steerage passengers from the steamer Nord America of the Laveco line from Naples and Genoa. After all but about 60 immigrants had been passed out with a clean bill of health, a woman, said to be from Naples, was found to have the disease. Dr. Parker, of the United States marine hospital service, at once ordered all who had not been sent to their destinations throughout the United States to be held. The remaining 60 were detained and examined. Some of them are believed to have contracted the disease.

Word was immediately sent to Commissioner of Immigration Watchman, who notified the various railroad lines to hold all passengers from the Nord America.

Notice! Notice! Notice!

To all whom it may concern,

John Breck having declared that his mail pouch was full and overflowing, Sam'l Caven being afflicted with a severe cold and nearly host which seriously impairs his faculties as Town Crier, we take this opportunity of calling the attention of all former residents of the Bit that it is their duty to repair to the Hall in Bolster Block, City of Barre, Vt., on the evening of Tuesday next, it being the last night of October, commonly called Halloween. Eight o'clock is the hour and it is the wish of the Committee that all will be present on time.

UNCONSCIOUS
TO THE ENDDavid A. Cook, Victim of Accident, Died Early Today.

SUSTAINED BROKEN NECK

Besides Several Fractures of the Skull in His Twenty-foot Fall from Leland, Hall & Co's
Stoneshed.

Without having once regained consciousness, David A. Cook, who fell twenty feet from the staging of a building at the Leland, Hall & Company stoneshed yesterday forenoon at ten o'clock, died at eight minutes past six o'clock this morning at the Emergency hospital, where he was taken soon after the accident. Besides the fracture at the base of the skull, the physicians found that he had sustained a fracture and dislocation of the neck, so that death was only a matter of a short time. The injured man failed steadily during the afternoon and night, and at times breathing was barely perceptible. Besides the fractures the body was considerably bruised. After a post mortem examination this forenoon the body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. W. Hooker & Co.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at one o'clock from his late residence, corner of Lewis and Green streets. The carpenters' union will attend in a body.

The deceased was born in the town of Berlin fifty years ago. He came to Barre fourteen years ago from Northfield, and during his residence here has made a large number of friends. He has been quite prominent in union labor matters, being a member of the carpenters' union, of which organization he has been secretary and president, and also a member of the Central Labor union, of which body he was vice president and business agent at the time of his death. He was a good workman in his occupation of carpenter, and much liked by his fellows.

Besides a wife, a step-daughter and one son, the deceased leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mary Lenox of Berlin and Mrs. Julia Whittier of Leominster, Mass., and four brothers, Elmer E. of Dickinson, North Dakota, Frank of Leominster, Mass., Charles of Lebanon, N. H., and F. N. of Northfield.

Result of Autopsy.

Dr. Joe W. Jackson assisted Drs. Miller and Clement in the post-mortem. It was found that there was a posterior fracture of the skull from ear to ear, and several other smaller fractures and that the neck was broken. The brain on the left side was badly lacerated, and fully a pint and a half of blood was removed from the skull. An operation could not have saved the life of the patient, and this the doctors had decided during the night not to undertake on account of the weak heart action.

SCHOOLMATES BORE REMAINS.

Funeral of Fred A. Freeman Held This Afternoon.

The funeral of Fred A. Freeman was held at two o'clock this afternoon from the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Thurston. Rev. R. F. Love officiated, and the interment was in Hope cemetery. The bearers, who were schoolmates of the young man, were Harold Robbins, Arthur Averill, Emory Newhall and Alexander Smith.

Besides the immediate family, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Freeman and two children of South Natick, Mass., the relatives from out of town who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Freeman of Marshfield, Mrs. Elsie Boyce of Marshfield, Mr. and Mrs. Pelkey of Chicopee, Mass., and Mrs. Abel Beekley of Marshfield. The great profusion of flowers showed the sympathy of the many friends of the family.

LABOR OFFICERS CHOSEN.

P. F. McCarthy Again President of Central Labor Union.

At the regular meeting of the Central Labor Union of Barre and vicinity, held in Carpenters' hall, Nichols block, last evening, a resolution was passed endorsing the Barre Emergency hospital. The delegates will report the results of their deliberations on this important institution to their various bodies, after which it is expected that some arrangement will be concluded whereby all parties will be benefited in the near future.

The officers elected for the half year were as follows: President, P. F. McCarthy; vice president, Gus Gregoire; financial and recording secretary, Alex'r Ironside; treasurer, A. H. Buzzell; sergeant at arms, George Riddell.

Auditors, James Cruickshank, William Walker and I. L. Robbins; executive board, P. F. McCarthy, Alex'r Ironside, James Cruickshank, C. J. Allen, Charles Demers.
